Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12 and 15-26, drawn to an array composition and method of making the array composition, classified in class 435, subclass 288.4.
 - II. Claims 1 and 13, drawn to an apparatus comprising the array composition of Claim 1, classified in class 435, subclass 283.1.
 - III. Claim 14, drawn to a method of detecting a target analyte using the apparatus of Claim 13, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
 - a. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the detection instrument does not require the array composition as claimed for patentability i.e. the apparatus does not require sites separated by a distance of at least 5 μ m or 100 μ m; the formatted dimensions of a microscope slide; at least a second assay location; or nucleic acids and/or proteins. The subcombination has separate utility such as a tool for immobilization, amplification, isolation and/or purification of biomolecules without the detection component as claimed in Invention II.
 - b. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product i.e. the apparatus of Invention I can be used to immobilize, isolate and/or amplify molecules which bind to the bioactive agents.

Art Unit: 1634

c. Inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product i.e. the apparatus of Group II can be used to measure enzymatic activity of the bioactive agents on the array composition over time and during various reaction conditions.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
